My Message to Men The Preservation of Health and

Treatment of Disease

A love of life is inherent in each individual of the race, and no other earthly object can ever become more dear to the natural feelings of a sane mind than the preservation of life. In consistency with this inborn desire to live, the preservation of health would seem a proper object of care and watchful thought on the part of each individual, and an object, too, in regard to which each would always possess the deepest solicitude to be fully and rightfully informed. Strange as it may seem, directly the opposite of what we would naturally expect is true. There is no subject that pertains to our welfare, in reference to which we act so ignorantly, or with so little apparent thought and eare. Most men seem to live in utter disregard of the laws of health, as if reckless of its preservation. Indifference to health, and neglect of proper means to regain it when lost, is therefore the most prominent cause of premature death. They can not be made to realize that debilitating habits can injure them and that when disease has them within its grasp every hour is of importance. Delays are dangerous, Neglect of proper remedies may result in a lifetime of suffering, deformity or death. The causes of disease may be for a time latent, unseen or unfelt.

Its seeds or germs are sown or deposited in the tissues and fluids of the body, and if not discharged or are neglected the case may become incurable,

As time past never returns, so an organ of the body once destroyed is never restored.

The time to eradicate a disease from the system, or restore a deformed part, is when the first touch of the paralyzing and blighting hand of the disease is felt; therefore, health and life depend upon you having the disease treated without unnecessary delay.

Still, many, not realizing this fact, are the victims of procrastinations, which is not only the thief of time, but in many instances of LIFE.

It matters not to the sick how beautiful the world, or enchanting the music, or how beloved by friends; they can neither appreciate nor enjoy them.

Pain and disease are their companions all the livelong day, while the grim visage of death haunts them in visions of the night, and morning returns but to renew their sufferings.

We seldom think of the great event of death until the shadow falls across our path, sweeping from our sight forever those nearest and dearest.

If the graves could give up their secrets, many of us would be astonished beyond measure to ascertain thereby how easily might have been cured the disease that snapped the life blood and caused death to so many loved ones in the very prime of life.

I want to talk to every sufferer from Blood Diseases, Nervo-Vital Debility, Urinary Obstructions, Varicose Veins, Piles, Kidney, Bladder and all diseases of men. The fact that you are skeptical does not discourage me in the least; nearly all of my patients tell of this same experience. I am restoring these men every day, and feel sure I can do the same for you. I especially solicit all stubborn, complicated and long-standing cases. Men who realize the seriousness and gravity of their condition will appreciate the benefits conferred and the lasting benefit I give. Come to me for free consultation. I will then explain how different, better and more helpful are my methods of treatment. My special training and long years of experience in treating all stubborn, nervous, blood and special diseases of men give me many advantages in their treatment, and satisfactory results are assured. If afflicted, it is well worth your while to come hundreds of miles to consult me and receive the treatment of a specialist who knows what to do and does it. My sympathy is enlisted with every patient. The restoring and building up of broken down men is now my lifework. The welfare and restoration of my patients is my only thought.

Dr. Allison
